

ARETHUSA IS TOWED HOME

Big Knockabout Has Fine Salt Cod Fare— Few Fresh Mackerel In.

Sch. Arethusa, Capt. Clayton Morrissey, whose narrow escape from destruction on Sable Island Bar has been the theme of discussion along the water front for several days, arrived here this morning in tow of the British tug Bridgewater, the vessel having been patched up and repairs temporarily effected so that she could reach home.

Capt. Morrissey brought his trip of salt fish along too, having 145,000 pounds salt cod in the hold at the time the vessel struck.

Other arrivals here are schs. Esperanto with a small mackerel fare and sch. Maud F. Silva down from Boston after disposing of her halibut fare, Saturday.

The harbor traps had 40 barrels of better fish this morning, while steamer Unknown landed 20 barrels of bluebacks, the first catch of bluebacks for several days.

Today's Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and receipts in detail are:

Sch. Arethusa, Grand Bank, via Halifax, 140,000 lbs. salt cod.

Sch. Esperanto, seining, 6000 lbs. fresh tinker mackerel.

Str. Unknown, seining, 20 bbls. fresh bluebacks.

Sch. Maud F. Silva, via Boston. Harbor traps, 40 barrels butter fish.

TO MEMORY OF LOST FISHERS

Annual Service Will be Held at Stage Fort Park Sunday August 17.

The annual memorial for the fishermen of the fleet who have "drifted out on the unknown sea," will be held Saturday, August 17.

Adults as well as the children are requested to gather on School street, near Middle street at 12 o'clock noon, there to form in line and march to Stage Fort Park where there will be an address by Col. C. F. Womson, and the reading of the roll call of the men lost at sea for the year 1812.

After the speaking the march will form again and return to the Blynman bridge where the flowers will be scattered on the outgoing tide. The Acoriana National band will render the music for this service. The committee of arrangements asks that those who are present to witness this solemn service maintain as great a degree of silence as possible, that the spirit of the occasion may not be marred. They also request that flowers be brought to the Blynman Bridge where there will be some one to take charge of them.

August!

Good Report.

Not in many years has codfish been so plentiful on the local grounds, and last week, some thousands of quintals were taken by trap men. One of the fishermen said there was a "wall" of fish from Torbay Head to beyond Petty Harbor Head and all the traps in that section were doing extra well. Hook and liners, however, are doing poorly, the fish being glutted and refusing to take bait.—St. John's, N. F., Free Press.

Nova Scotia Bait News.

Canso, July 30—Herring plentiful at Larry's River; none taken at Canso.

Sherbrooke, July 30—Twenty barrels of herring taken at Wine Harbor; very plentiful at Sonota.

Musquodoboit Harbor, July 30—Three barrels of herring at Eastern Passage, four barrels herring at Musquodoboit, ten barrels large herring at Owl's Head, 25 barrels small herring at Owl's Head.

Middle West Pubnico, July 30—Six barrels herring taken at Yarmouth; two barrels herring at Pubnico; none at Wedgeport and Tusket Island.

Petit De Grat, July 30—No bait today.

Digby, July 30—No bait reported.

Barrington, July 30—One hundred barrels herring at Cape Island, five barrels at Wood's Harbor, one hundred at Baccaro.

Little Bras D'Or—July 30—Half barrel herring to a net this morning at Lowpoint.

Lardoise, July 29—Landed herring reports Lardoise ten cwts.

Portland Fishing Notes.

The Boston fishing sch. M. Madeleine came in Friday from a short cruise on the Georges Banks, bringing 26 swordfish. Capt. Brewer reports when only two days on the Banks his engine became disabled and he was forced to abandon his trip and come here for repairs. The catch was purchased by the J. W. Trefethen Co.

Better luck was reported by another banker coming in Friday, the sch. Thomas A. Cromwell, arriving from a cruise on the Grand Banks with 23,000 pounds of halibut in addition to 8000 pounds of salt cod. The market was rather shy on halibut last week, and Capt. Hall got a good price for his fish, the J. W. Trefethen Co. taking the whole lot at 9 1-4 and 12 cents, the whole making a good stock. The skipper reports a lot of foggy weather on the banks and but for that would have done still better.

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Sch. Alert, mackerelling, arrived at Liverpool, Thursday last.

The steam trawler Caulonia from England, arrived at Canso, Thursday last, to fit for fishing operations.

Schs. Mooanam, Elmer E. Gray, Avalon, Monitor and Harmony took ice from the Liverpool Fish Company last week.

TO LAUNCH THREE BEAM TRAWLERS

The three new beam trawlers now building at Quincy are rapidly nearing completion and the first one will be ready for trial inside of two weeks. The work on the vessels has been delayed by the non-arrival of boilers, which were constructed in the West and held up in shipment. The new craft will be named the Billow, Breaker and Wave and will be finished in this order. When these trawlers are in service there will be nine of this type of craft running to T wharf. The Billow and her sister ships are a decided improvement over the Spray, the first of the fleet. They are 127 feet over all, 23 feet beam and 12 1-2 feet depth of hold. Their capacity will be greater than any of the six now in commission.

OLD SCH. NED P. WALKER GONE

Enroute to Pensacola from the West Indies, where she had for weeks been engaged in salvage operations, the American schooner Ned P. Walker of Boston, stranded at East Pass, about forty miles east of Pensacola bar, during a heavy wind during the latter part of last week. The schooner is said to be resting in a dangerous position and will doubtless beat to pieces should any rough weather come up.

Captain Burns of the Walker, reached Pensacola late Saturday night and on Sunday reported his vessel's misfortune. The schooner is but a hundred tons burden, but was well equipped with wrecking apparatus. She carried several tons of copper and brass and other stuff removed from the wrecks at Grand Cayman Islands.

Captain Burns explained that on last Wednesday his vessel lost its mainsail during a blow. Rather the mainsail was torn to shreds by the blow and became unmanageable. It was not until the following day, however, when the ship struck another gale, that she went ashore.

EXPECT A RECORD

Sch. Edmund F. B en Several Days 226 Sworders on

Aug. 1.

The Portland fishing v gaged in swordfishing thi are certainly meeting w success, some of the craft ha than paid for themselves airc a month's good fishing yet pect Four of them were in yesterday, all with big fare schooner Marion E. Turner the list with 183 fish, the Hock having 165, the Lochinvar 130 an Fanny Reed 95. The Lochinvar's shared $130 a man, while the c of the first two named vessels ceived quite a little more. As was to be expected the market broke under the heavy receipts, the T wharf dealers paying but seven cents per pound yesterday, but even at that figure big stocks were made by all the vessels, and although the price mentioned seems small it looms up when compared with what has been paid in some former years following a glut in the market, one trip the writer can recall having sold at two cents per pound at this port.

But better than the above has been the luck of another well known Portland schooner, the Edmund F. Black, commanded by Capt. Frank Doughty of Bailey's Island. Capt. John Toothaker of the schooner Lochinvar, who came here by rail from Boston yesterday, reports speaking the Black several days ago on the Georges, the skipper informing him that he had already 226 fish on board and was still filling up.

Wednesday proved a good day for the herring fishermen. Over 300 barrels were brought in by the little power boats Pet, Trident and Dorothy D. The latter made only one set and netted 120 barrels.

The schooner Mary Edith, one of Gloucester's off shore fishermen, Capt. Thompson, arrived here yesterday with 25,000 pounds of mixed ground fish and about 200 pounds of halibut. Her skipper said that for three weeks he had been fishing off the Cape shore and along the Maine coast but encountered very poor fishing most of the time. He said that they found Pensacola Fishing News.

Having encountered the rather strong puff during Wednesday of last week while beating out of the harbor for the Gulf the fishing smack Clara P. Sewell, the Warren Fish Company, was compelled to return to Baylen street wharf Wednesday afternoon.

Fishing at Newfoundland Ports.

Capt. Barbour, of the Fogota, reports that the fishery between Change Islands is favorable.

Joe Batt's Arm and Tilting—All doing well; traps 5 to 25 qtls. per haul; fish very plentiful in Northern Bight of Tilting; not much in Southern Bight; but the fishermen are in hopes that it will strike in shortly.

Fogo—The daily catch is not big, but it is encouraging as it improves every day; two hook and liners have 40 qtls. each.

Change Islands—Not much as yet; but prospects good.

Wadhams—Very poor. The report from there is the worse of all the places visited.

Musgrave Harbor and Ladle Cove—Splendid; many traps have 250 qtls.

Peckford's Island—Fish plentiful; there was a shortage of salt, but the Fogota took a supply from Fogo.

Cat Hr.—Traps doing well; 25 to 40 qtls. per haul.

Cape Freels and Newtown—Traps and hook and liners doing well.

Greenspond—Fish on grounds and good voyage expected.

Catalina—Trappers doing very well —St. John's N. F. Herald, July 21.

Newfoundland Fishing News.

July 12th. From F. W. Power (Oderin)—The total catch of codfish is 800 quintals and for last week 200. Ten traps are in the water and 15 dories and skiffs with 6 boats fishing. One boat and two schooners have arrived from the grounds respectively. Codfishery prospects are very poor. There is enough caplin for the seines. There is nothing being done at the lobster fishery. Hook and liners are doing nothing, and there is very little for cod nets or traps.

July 12th. From A. Freeman (Exploits)—No traps are out and only 25 boats, but no dories or skiffs are fishing. There is plenty of bait, but the codfishery is poor. The lobster catch is very small to date. The weather recently has been very stormy greatly hampering fishery operations.—St. John's, N. F., Herald, July 21.

The Largest Fishing Steamer.

The new fishing steamer East Hampton, said to be the largest fishing steamer afloat, has been turned over to her owners, the Sickler Meadows Company of New York, and will be put into commission immediately. She was built by the Portland Company for porgie fishing; her gross tonnage is 500, and she has a capacity of nearly 7000 barrels.

Halibut at Portland.

Sch. Thomas A. Cromwell, Capt. Augustus G. Hall, is at Portland today with 20,000 pounds fresh halibut.

Captain Alex was enroute to the snapper banks when she encountered the strong wind.

Comparatively little was doing Thursday in the way of snapper receipts at the local fish houses. The only arrival recorded during the day was the smack Albert Geiger, of the E. E. Saunders Fish and Ice Company. The Geiger was out some eighteen or twenty days and brought back a comparatively small catch, reporting only four thousand pounds of snappers and eighteen hundred pounds of groupers.

Several crafts left for the snapper banks during the morning. They were as follows: Ida M. Silva, Emelia Enos, Clara R. Harwood.

Big Fish Washed Up by High Tide.

A mammoth product of the sea, weighing 600 or more pounds, and of an unfamiliar species, was discovered on the sand of Nahant beach, a short distance from the State bathhouse, by metropolitan police officers early Wednesday morning. The fish created a disagreeable odor. It is thought that the fish had been dead for some time and had been washed in at high tide Tuesday night. A deep hole was excavated and the fish buried.

Superintendent Anderson of the Nahant beach bathhouse said that the fish was the most peculiar looking sea product that he had ever heard of and that all those who viewed its huge carcass were unable to give a name to it. A large quantity of quick lime was thrown over the body in the trench. Although buried some six or seven feet in depth the odor was strong in the vicinity of the grave for some time after the interment had been made Wednesday afternoon.

French Trawler Halifax.

Another French steam trawler, a sister of the craft arrived for repairs last month, put into Halifax last Tuesday afternoon. She is named the Jeannette and her boiler sprang a leak while she was operating on the Grand Bank. The captain reports a catch of 5,000 quintals of fish, half cod and half haddock, which he landed at St. Pierre. The trawler is two months and twenty-one days out from port. Her register arc, 9781, is painted on the bows and is next that of the Nordrap which is arc 9780. They belong to a fleet of three big trawlers operating on the Newfoundland banks and twelve smaller craft on the other side of the Atlantic.

Good Fishing at Trepassey.

A visitor in the city today from Trepassey, Nfld., states that big hauls of codfish are being taken in the traps there and in that vicinity, cod being more plentiful than in recent years. Traps average in the vicinity of 300 quintals, all being taken during the last few days. He further states that a good fishery is badly needed at Trepassey, as of late years the voyage has been practically a blank.—Sydney Port, July 26.

Poor Fishing on Treaty Coast.

A letter from Change Island, dated July 16, to the Deputy Minister of Customs read. The shore fishery here has been to date one of the worst on record, but the past few days three traps have been doing fairly well. White trapped three quintals yesterday. We hear from the Treaty Shore also reports of a little having been caught. The Dorothy D. has 150 and Joseph Elliot of Bay of Islands 200. We hear today the traps are doing well about Fogo.—St. John's N. F. Herald, July 22.

The Straits Report.

The Reid Newfoundland Company received a message from Capt. Gooble of the Ss. Meigle last night from Humbermouth, giving the following information in relation to the fishery at the straits. The message reads as follows:

Experienced variable winds and fog the whole trip. Fishery fairly good in straits: Whitley's crews at Bonne Bay. Esperaner hail for 3,500 quintals. Grants crews at Blanc Sablon have 5500 quintals; prospects excellent. St. John's, N. F., Herald, July 22.

Took Mackerel on Trawl.

Capt. Silveria of sch. Mary DeCosta, arriving at T wharf, Boston, today reports that the crew took three large mackerel on their trawls last Tuesday, while fishing on the northern edge of Georges.

Aug 1.

The trap fishery on the whole has been fair, and another week's success like that of the present one, will put it well above the average. The hook-and-line men are now counting on the arrival of squids to enable them to make a fair season's voyage. As a matter of fact, the squid school period has been in increasing value every year, and there is no reason why we should not have a good squid school the present season.

Straits Fishery.

The Straits fishery is very good, and though it did not commence until later than usual, it shows signs of being up to the average at present. But for the fact that ice drifted out of the Straits, and numerous small bergs remaining on the ground later than usual, the Straits fishery this season would be amongst the largest for that section for many years. From the first there appeared to be plenty of fish about, but the ice prevented fishermen from putting their twine in the water till much later than usual.

Labrador Fishery.

The news from Labrador is rather conflicting. One day we hear that there is a good sign of fish in many places, and the next day comes the news that there is very little doing. As is usually the case, the truth lies between these extremes. There is a good sign of fish in a few places, but, on the whole, the season has opened very much later than usual. New coastal conditions have later on the

Sch. Thomas, St. John's, Capt. William H. Thomas, stocked $6513 from her shacking trip to the Grand Banks, the crew's part being $179.22 to a man clear.

Sch. Elk, Capt. Felix Hogan, stocked $2637.92 as the result of her halibuting trip, giving the crew $55.39 each, clear.

Among the recent fine stocks made by the hustlers of the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company fleet are the following:

Sch. Corsair, Capt. Oscar Lyons, salt drifting, stocked $1573.38 as the result of a three weeks trip, the high share being $56.91.

Sch. Senator Gardner, Capt. Vincent Nelson, salt trawl banking, weighed off 222,830 pounds salt cod on her trip, stocking $9100.65, from which the crew shared $198.02 apiece, clear.

Sch. Kineo, Capt. Nathaniel Greenleaf, halibuting, stocked $3279.41 on her last trip, the crew taking $85.58

Stream, halibuting, had a nice stock and share as a result of the vessel's recent trip. The stock was $2950.96, while the men shared $80.97 each, clear.

Sch. Hattie L. Trask, Capt. Benjamin Johnson, Georges handlining, stocked $1109.10 on her recent trip. The high line share was $37.59.

Sch. Rob Roy, Capt. Lemuel Firth, stocked $2899.83 on her recent mackerel seining trip, the crew sharing $61.13 each to a man. The Rob Roy is equipped with gasoline power.

Sch. Annie M. Parker, Capt. H. Forbes, weighed off 233,917 pounds as the result of her salt trawl banking voyage. The stock was $9272.26, while each of the crew shared $211 to a man, clear.

Sch. Gossip, Capt. Manuel J. Silveria, stocked $1655.06 on her recent haddocking trip. Capt. Silveria fished with single dories.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F. TRADE REVIEW

The St. John's, N. F., Trade Review has the following to say with regard to this season's prospects: During the week the weather has been somewhat wet and cold, and the prevailing winds have been east. Caplin bait seems to be plentiful all along the coast, but the hook-and-line catches have been small. There appears to be an immense body of fish in deep water, but it is glutted with caplin, which fact accounts for the small catches by hook-and-line men. In a few places along the coast the fish has struck nearer inshore, and in such places some of the trappers have taken big hauls. This specially applies from Capt. St. Francis to Cape Race.

Hook-and-Line Voyage.

As far as the hook and line voyages goes, it is the smallest for years. Late arrival of caplin, cold weather, and glutted condition of codfish combine to account for the poor hook and line takings in the early season.
